Message from the Special Administrator

At my last update on 2 June 2026, I told you that the Supreme Court of South Australia was going to hold a hearing on 5 June 2026 to decide what happens next in the Court process. I can now tell you what happened at that hearing.

Justice McIntyre decided that the Inspector's Third Interim Report, which looks at the Master Trust, can be given to ATLA, Rangelea and the leaders of the Sub-Groups. These people will have until the middle of July to check if any small parts of the report should be kept private before the report is shared with all Common Law Holders.

The Judge also ordered that the Inspector's Fourth Interim Report, which looks at the Sub-Groups, must be given to the Court, ATLA, Rangelea and the Sub-Group leaders by 10 July 2026.

The Court will meet again on 12 August 2026 at 2:15pm to consider the next steps.

I will provide another update in the coming weeks to let you know:

- whether any parts of the Third Interim Report will be kept confidential; and
- when the Third Interim Report will be released to Common Law Holders.

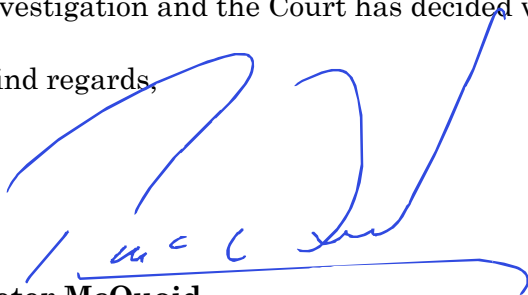

The Inspector is still working on his Fourth Interim Report. He expects to finish this work by 10 July 2026.

The Inspector has also told the Court that he plans to prepare a Final Report. This report will explain his findings in a clear and easy-to-understand way for Common Law Holders.

I will continue to keep Common Law Holders informed about any important developments, decisions and deadlines.

I also remind Common Law Holders that 85% of the compensation money will remain under the control of the Supreme Court of South Australia until the Inspector has finished his investigation and the Court has decided what should happen next.

Kind regards,

Peter McQuoid
